profile

Architect Interior Design Graduated from Polytechnic of Turin. She has worked in the field of interior and garden design since 1987.

Her experience starts in the prestigious antiques and textile store “I Segni” of Turin.

Her portfolio includes several interesting solutions for interiors of important private clients, where she delivered highly appreciated results.

During a period spent in France (2002-2004), she had the opportunity to combine her interest in food and her professional capacity by developing a taste and ability to design restaurant interiors.

In 2011, together with Beatrice Coda Negozio, she was invited to the tender to design the VIP Village for the Tennis Open 2012 in Doha (Qatar).

She currently works across Italy and France.

“Interior design means space harmony, eye for details, choice of materials and colours.

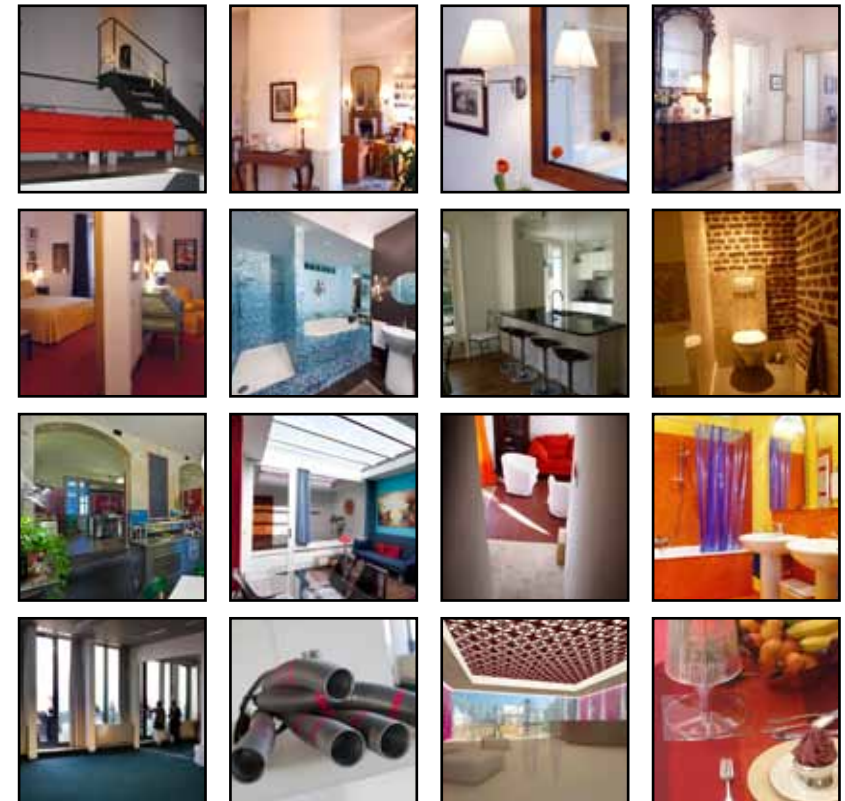

Client satisfaction requires an empathic level of collaboration in order to really understand the client's needs.

The whole project is a continuous “work in progress”, and it evolves as time goes by.

To my mind, pencil drawings, enriched by scale 1:1 details, even hand sketches are still fundamental, since any interior solution deserves exclusiveness”.
